

CHARDHAM YATRA BY ROAD EX- HARIDWAR

EXPERIENCE THE BLESSINGS OF THE HIMALAYAS

CHARDHAM YATRA 2025 BY ROAD

OVERVIEW

The four pilgrimage destinations of Yamunotri, Gangotri, Kedarnath, and Badrinath, altogether known as Char Dham, are situated in the mighty Himalayas. This Chardham is also popular by the name of Chota Chardham. These pilgrimage sites attract the greatest number of pilgrims each year, making them the most important religious travel places in Northern India. The pilgrimage traditionally begins in the west and ends in the east. As a result, the Char Dham Yatra begins from Yamunotri and continues to Gangotri, Kedarnath, and Badrinath.

Each of these four sites is dedicated to a different god. Yamunotri is devoted to the Goddess Yamuna and flows along with pilgrims to the scenic Rawai Valley's also known as Barkot. The goddess Yamuna is believed to be the daughter of Sun and the twin sister of Yama which means the God of death. It is also said that the bath in the Yamuna can cleanse all the sins and also protect them from a painful death and also in Hindu mythology Yamuna is in higher ranks of divine. A bath in the Yamuna's waters is thought to preserve the devotee from an untimely death.

Gangotri is a Hindu pilgrimage site devoted to the Goddess Ganga. The shrine stands on the banks of the River Bhagirathi, another name for the Ganga, which gets its name from the legend of ancient King Bhagirathi's penance, which brought her down from heaven. River Ganga is considered as the most sacred and purest river in India.

Kedarnath is a part of the Panch Kedar and is devoted to Lord Shiva. It is the northernmost Jyotirlinga and is located near the origin of the Mandakini River. Kedarnath is one of the most esteemed temples of India by the Hindus and holds major significance in the Hindu religion, as Kedarnath is one of the Chota Char Dham and also one of the twelve Jyotirlingas. The ancient name of Kedarnath is 'Kedar Khand'. Kedarnath, located at an altitude of 3,580 meters near the Chorabari glacier, the source of the Mandakini river with a backdrop of Kedarnath peak, Kedar Dome, and other Himalayan peaks, is dedicated to Lord Shiva.

Lord Vishnu is worshipped in Badrinath. It is located on the Alaknanda River's bank. Lord Vishnu meditated here, according to mythology, while his spouse Lakshmi took the form of a berry (Badri) tree to provide him with shade. Lord Vishnu was so moved by Goddess Laxmi's deed of love that he named the location Badrikashram after her. This temple is only open from May to October, attracting millions of pilgrims during that time. It is also one of the Char Dham yatra temple

TOUR GUIDELINES

- The car must pass or be checked at the RTO Office (Rishikesh or Haridwar) in accordance with government regulations; depending on the volume of traffic, this process may take some time. We kindly request your cooperation.
- Char Dham is not considered a luxury destination; the resources and amenities available are somewhat limited compared to other Himalayan locations. Nevertheless, we will strive to offer you the best possible services. We kindly request your support and cooperation in this endeavor.
- Residing at Kedarnath Top presents difficulties due to its elevated altitude of approximately 3,583 meters and its restricted operational time frame of six months annually.
- The rooms may seem humid or lack adequate cleanliness, even at a rate of ₹10,000–₹15,000 per room.
- Facilities might not fulfill standard expectations, as it is challenging to maintain resources at this altitude.
- Due to limitations in space, a per-bed-per-person arrangement is in place. Individual roommate preferences cannot be accommodated.
- Hotel Availability - Hotels can be found either in the city or in surrounding areas, depending on what is available. This is arranged for your convenience and to ensure effective logistics. Accommodation fees are contingent upon availability, and alterations at the last minute may take place.

- Travel Challenges - The distance to Kedarnath is between 18 and 20 kilometers, with all vital supplies also arriving at the temple via this same path.
 - It is common to experience traffic delays of 10 to 15 hours in a single day, particularly during the peak season.
 - Landslides, climatic conditions, and governmental regulations may additionally affect timelines
 - Helicopter services to Kedarnath are contingent upon weather conditions and may experience cancellations or delays
 - Government taxis (such as those operating from Sonprayag to Gaurikund) are required, and larger vehicles are not permitted to go past Sonprayag. Waiting times could be applicable.

1. Adjustments to Meal Plans and Timetable:

- Because of early departures or delays, there is a possibility that you will miss meals (breakfast or dinner). Refunds will not be granted for meals that are missed.
- Meal arrangements are contingent upon the availability of dining establishments throughout the journey.
- Health and Safety
 - This pilgrimage is physically demanding. It is essential to ensure that you are medically fit and to consult a doctor if needed.
 - Maintain proper hydration, opt for light food, and have medications on hand to prevent altitude sickness
- Travel Insurance - We do not offer insurance services. We highly advise obtaining third-party travel insurance for enhanced security.

- Travel difficulties include:
 - The 18–20 km hike to Kedarnath and the same route that brings all necessary supplies to the temple.
- Landslides, weather, and governmental rules may also affect timetables; traffic delays of 10 to 15 hours in a single day are frequent, particularly during high season.
- Weather-related cancellations or delays may occur for heli services to Kedarnath.

- Larger cars are not permitted outside of Sonprayag, and government taxis are required for trips like those from Sonprayag to Gaurikund. There may be waiting periods.

- Packing and Preparation:
 - Bring minimal items. Part of the hike may require you to carry your bags, which might be taxing. Don't overpack and concentrate on the necessities:
- Rain gear, cozy walking shoes, and warm clothes
- Reusable water bottles, snacks, and prescription drugs
- Keep cash on hand because many services prefer cash payments and there aren't many ATMs.

Meals and Modifications to the Schedule:

- You could miss breakfast or supper because of early departures or delays. Meals that are missed will not be refunded.
- The availability of restaurants throughout the trip determines the
